

Official IRT Ranking Point System

The International Racquetball Tour (IRT) ranking system is designed to ensure fairness, consistency, and transparency for all professional players competing throughout the season. Below you will find the official guidelines for how ranking points will be calculated and applied.

2025–2026 Season Overview

- The 2025–2026 season is an extended season.
- Three tournaments have already taken place at the beginning of the year, and 12 additional tournaments are scheduled before the season concludes in June 2026.
- This makes for a total of 15 tournaments eligible for ranking points this season.
- To allow players flexibility, only a player's top 10 tournament results will count toward their final ranking. This ensures players are not penalized for missing an event due to scheduling conflicts, travel, or injury.

Points Allocation

- Points are awarded based on the total prize money pool of each tournament. Larger purses will generate higher point totals.
- All rounds of play contribute to a player's point total according to the official IRT points table.
- If a player loses in a tiebreaker match, they will be awarded one additional ranking point, per round from the main draw, and one point in any of the qualifying rounds. In recognition of the competitiveness of the match.
- A full points ranking event is categorized by an IRT-700 or above.

Transition to Fall to Spring Year Rankings

- Beginning July 2026, the IRT will move to a Fall-to-Spring year ranking system.
- Under this system, points from tournaments will remain valid for 12 months from the date of the event and then automatically drop off.
- This rolling format provides a more accurate, up-to-date reflection of player performance throughout the year.

The IRT is committed to maintaining a ranking system that reflects both performance and consistency across the professional tour. We look forward to an exciting extended season and to the continued growth of racquetball worldwide. Attached is a detailed run down of the ranking points and Tier levels.
